

Investment Review

The Hereford/DSM Large Cap Fund NAV depreciated (2.1%) for the month of January compared to a (4.4%) depreciation for the Russell 1000 Growth index and a (3.6%) depreciation for the S&P500. The majority of the fund continues to be invested in the health care, technology, consumer, business services and financial services sectors.

At the end of January, the Fund was invested primarily in the health care, technology, consumer, business services, and financial services sectors, with a smaller weight in the materials sector.

During the month, the Fund exceeded its benchmark, on a gross-of-expense basis, by 236 basis points. This was primarily of the result of DSM's stock selections in health care but also a result of DSM's overweight in health care.

In January, the best performing positions in the portfolio were Genzyme, Varian Medical, Novo Nordisk and Dolby Labs. The worst performers in January were Google, Qualcomm, Apple Computer and NetApp (data storage systems).

Also in January, the Fund exited positions in St. Jude Medical and CVS Caremark. St. Jude, though a strong medical device company, is facing pricing pressure from one competitor which may take a number of quarters to run its course. CVS Caremark appears to have done a poor job in the Caremark (pharmacy benefit manager) side of their business, creating a headwind for overall company earnings.

The Fund initiated positions in Allergan (prescription and over-the-counter eye care, and the maker of Botox cosmetic and Botox therapeutic) and in Priceline (allows internet purchase of travel services at advantageous prices).

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the LCG sub fund is to provide capital appreciation principally through investments in US-based growing corporations with market capitalizations generally above 2 billion dollars. These companies are chosen for their growth prospects, attractive returns, solid business fundamentals and intelligent management. The sub fund may, on an ancillary basis, invest in US-based companies with lower market capitalizations as well as in non-US based companies. The Compartment may invest in American Depository Receipts and American Depository Shares. The reference benchmark for this strategy is the Russell 1000 Growth Index.
